

Grace Weekly Email Update

January 7, 2026

Message from JD Cunny (Associate Pastor)

We're excited to announce the launch of the new "Connect" page on the GraceFS website! At Grace, we believe that Worship, Connect, Serve, Pray, and Give are key commitments that lead us into a fuller life in Christ—and this week, our focus is on Connect.

Many of you know that our Bible Studies/Grace Classes have traditionally been found under the "Events" page. With the new Connect page, we've made it easier than ever to find a "Bible Study" to join. We are now adding "Community Groups."

Groups are called by many different names—Small Groups, Life Groups, and here at Grace, we have chosen "Community Groups." While the name may differ, the heart behind them is the same: to build a community that reflects the love of Christ. At its core, a Community Group is simply a place where someone is known, valued, prayed for, and reminded they do not have to walk alone. No matter what we call them, our hope is that you'll find a place where you belong—and that you'll join us. This is a new page, and we are actively working to get all of our studies and groups listed, so please take a moment to look around and see if joining a study/group might be right for you.

Of course, joining a study/group is just one way to connect at Grace. There are women's and men's gatherings, events for couples, and plenty of opportunities to build relationships along the way. Or—if you're feeling bold—you might even look around on a Sunday morning and introduce yourself to someone you haven't met yet.

However you choose to connect, we're excited about this next season of growing relationships and meaningful community within our Grace family.

January is National Human Trafficking Awareness Month. This month we pause to recognize the reality of human trafficking, pray for victims and survivors, and commit ourselves to awareness, compassion, and action. Together, we can help bring light where there is darkness and stand for the dignity and freedom of every person. Please take a moment to read the article Kathleen has shared in the Serve section of the newsletter.

God Bless,

JD

Finishing Strong: Making Final Plans

Sunday, January 25 2-3:30pm, ActCtr

While most people avoid thinking about their death and funeral plans, the bible actually says we gain wisdom by considering the number of our days. I (Pastor Jeff) work with lots of families at the moment of death, and there are some clear things that make death and dying a powerful witness to God's love and which bless your family in that moment. Join me as we think through how you can prepare to love your family well in your death. We will look at practical things that everyone needs to have in place for when they die--from a living will to songs for the funeral service. Register HERE.

Restoring Dignity: A Call to Action for National Human Trafficking Awareness Month

This January, as our nation observes National Human Trafficking Prevention Month, we are called as a community of faith to look "beneath the surface" of a tragedy that often remains hidden in plain sight. Human trafficking is a crime against humanity and, for many in our community, an affront to the Gospel that denies the inherent value of every life created in the image of God.

Understanding the Reality

Sex trafficking is not just a global issue; it happens in our cities, suburbs, and rural areas. It involves the use of force, fraud, or coercion to compel a person to engage in commercial sex acts.

- Vulnerability: Traffickers often target those who feel unsupported or alone. Children in foster care, runaway youth, and individuals with disabilities are at a significantly higher risk.
- The Scope: Globally, an estimated 28 million people are in situations of modern slavery, with women and young girls making up a disproportionate 99% of sex trafficking victims.
- The Industry: This illicit industry generates an estimated $150 billion annually, thriving on the exploitation of the vulnerable.

Recognizing the Signs

Awareness is the first step toward prevention. While there is no "one size fits all" profile for a victim, common red flags include:

- Showing signs of being physically or emotionally controlled.
- Losing control of personal identification or having few personal possessions.
- Anxiety, depression, or being unable to answer questions about where they live.
- Unexplained bruises or signs of physical abuse.

How We Can Respond as a Church

As followers of Christ, we are called to "rescue the poor and helpless" (Psalm 82:3-4). Here is how you can help this month:

1. Pray: Pray for the safety of the vulnerable, the healing of survivors, and for the eyes of our community to be opened to those in need.
2. Educate: Take time to learn the indicators of trafficking and share this information with your family and coworkers.
3. Wear Blue: On January 11th, National Human Trafficking Awareness Day, join others across the country by wearing blue to symbolize our commitment to fighting this crime.
4. Report: If you suspect someone is being trafficked, do not confront them directly. Instead, call the National Human Trafficking Hotline at 1-888-373-7888 or text "BeFree" (233733).

By building stronger relationships and creating a welcoming, observant community, we can protect those at risk and help bring hope to those in the shadows.
