

Grace Weekly Email Update

January 28, 2026

Message from Pastor Jeff

I missed getting to worship with you all this past Sunday and Monday, and I am extra looking forward to us all being back together again this weekend. A little extra time spent watching the news over the last weekend would leave me thoroughly unhopeful for the future of our nation and our world except for Jesus. He is alive and at work in and through the Church creating new kinds of humans who live for Him and whose lives transcend the politics and power struggles of this present moment. We don't gather for worship to retreat, we gather to be empowered to bring Him glory, make His kingdom visible, and to declare His grace to all the world. The gates of hell will not prevail against this. See you this weekend as we learn to thrive in the midst of chaos!

If you missed the snail mail letter I sent out about membership at Grace, you can find it HERE. If you are ready to commit to helping us live out the mission God has given to us by worshiping, connecting, serving, praying, and giving, you can find membership cards in the backs of all the seats. Fill that card out and place it in the offering basket at any of our worship services. Some people have asked if there is an online option to use. There is not. We wanted you to have something physical to place in the basket as a tangible sign of your commitment.

I rescheduled the Finishing Strong: Making Final Plans class for this Sunday at 2pm. I'd love for you to join me and become intentional about loving those close to you and giving witness to Jesus in your passing from this life!

Yours in Christ,

Jeff

True faith produces fruit. A faith without action and without life change is ultimately a dead faith. January 13, Activity Center

Facilitators: Martha Cochenour and Cassey Browning

Cost: $20

Beginning January 11, Activity Center

Facilitator: Terry Gallamore

Cost: $10 for paperback or you may purchase on your own

Through the lives, examples, and messages of these three prophets, we see God's constant love and forgiveness for Jews and Gentiles alike in spite of blatant disobedience, spiritual adultery, inappropriate worship, and a lack of justice.

You Are Invited to the Celebration of Life for Tim Vair Saturday, January 31, Noon-2pm, Activity Center

Tim was born on October 22, 1960 and passed away at age 65 on December 1, 2025 at Vanderbilt Medical Center. Tim was a faithful member of Grace Community. Grace changed his life.

Tim was mostly known for his smile as he served as an usher/greeter. When he could he served as a parking lot greeter and welcomed many of you onto the campus with a big smile and passionate hand wave. He was a faithful supporter of our kids and youth ministry.

During his celebration we will have a light lunch. Several folks have already planned to share stories and what he meant to them. We will open the floor to anyone who wants to share.

Because Tim loved animals and took many (of all kinds) into his home, his family has asked that in lieu of flowers, memorials be made to the Almost Home Animal Shelter or an animal shelter of your choice.

The Art of Wintering: Caring for Our Souls and Minds in the New Year Message from Kerry Underwood

As a new year begins, many of us feel an unspoken pressure to start strong. New Year, New YOU! We set ambitious goals, fix what feels broken, and push ourselves toward constant improvement. Yet winter has the ability to offer us a quieter, healthier invitation. The season of winter reminds us that slowing down is not a failure of faith or effort, but a vital part of how God designed us to heal and grow.

In the natural world, winter is a season of rest and conservation. Growth does not stop; it simply happens beneath the surface. In much the same way, our minds and spirits need seasons of reduced pace in order to recover from stress, grief, and exhaustion. Scripture affirms this rhythm when Jesus invites the weary to come to Him for rest (Matthew 11:28). Rest is not a luxury; it is a necessity for mental and spiritual wellbeing.

Wintering allows us to tend gently to our mental health. By honoring quieter rhythms, we give ourselves permission to pause, reflect, and acknowledge our limits. This can reduce anxiety, prevent burnout, and create space for emotional healing. Practices such as prayerful stillness, honest self-examination, and intentional rest help calm the mind and remind us that we are not alone in our struggles. God meets us not only in our strength, but also in our fatigue.

Spiritually, wintering nurtures trust. When we release the need to constantly produce or perform, we learn to rest in God's presence rather than our own abilities. "Be still, and know that I am God" (Psalm 46:10) becomes an invitation to breathe, to listen, and to allow God's peace to steady our anxious thoughts. In this stillness, faith is often strengthened, not diminished.

As we enter this new year, wintering may look different for each person. It might mean simplifying schedules, setting healthier boundaries, seeking support when needed, or choosing rest without guilt. These are not signs of weakness; they are acts of wisdom and faithful self-care. When we honor winter seasons, we prepare our hearts and minds for renewed strength and future growth.

God's promise remains: "Those who wait for the Lord shall renew their strength" (Isaiah 40:31). Winter will not last forever. But when we embrace this season with intention and trust, we allow God to restore us—mentally, emotionally, and spiritually—in ways that sustain us for the journey ahead. Now that is a "New Year, New You" I can get behind!

A Prayer for the New Year

Gracious and loving God,

As we step into this new year, we come to You weary, hopeful, and in need of Your peace. Teach us to embrace seasons of rest without guilt and to trust that You are at work even when life feels slow or uncertain. Quiet our anxious thoughts, heal our tired minds, and restore our spirits. Help us to care for ourselves as You care for us—with compassion, patience, and grace. May this season of wintering draw us closer to You and prepare us for the new life You are bringing forth. Amen.

Kerry Underwood
